

Take Your Writing to the Next Level!

Come to the Triangle Sisters in Crime
One-Day Workshop for Writers

Saturday September 30, 2017 9 AM to 4:30 PM
Western Wake Technical Community College, Room 118
3434 Kildaire Farm Road, Cary NC

Three Dynamite Presentations by Successful Sisters in Crime Authors

Building Well-Rounded Characters: bring them to life on the page. Art Taylor, author of On the Road with Del and Louise, has won every mystery writing award in the book. He teaches creative writing at George Mason University.

The Art of the Opening: get your story off to a great start with the right first sentence. Ruth Moose taught the short story for many years at UNC Chapel Hill, and has authored multiple books of short fiction. Her mystery novel, Doing It at the Dixie Dew, won the 2015 Malice Domestic award for Best First Novel.

The Power of Voice: how to find yours. Award-winning writer J D Allen's background in forensic anthropology has served her writing well. Her new mystery series Sin City Investigations debuts with 19 Souls from Midnight Ink in February 2018.

Registration fee includes Panera box lunch, handouts, Q&A panel, snacks, door prizes

$75 General public    $65 SinC members    $60 members of Triangle Sisters in Crime

Register at www.trianglesinc.com